MEDIA PACK .2026

Join the self-publishing news revolution!

What is London Daily.News?

We are a self-publishing news platform with no political or cultural bias and not influenced by traditional media or 3rd parties.

Our site is not full of the click-bait-clutter, banners or noise that so many other sites indulge in – which means your content is viewed and consumed in its purest form, just as you intended.

Why did we start?

Our founders come from PR, Creative, Publishing and Tech backgrounds and had all become frustrated by the multiple entry barriers put up by the traditional news platforms and many of the newer ones too. We figured “let’s cut out the middle-man” and disrupt the market.

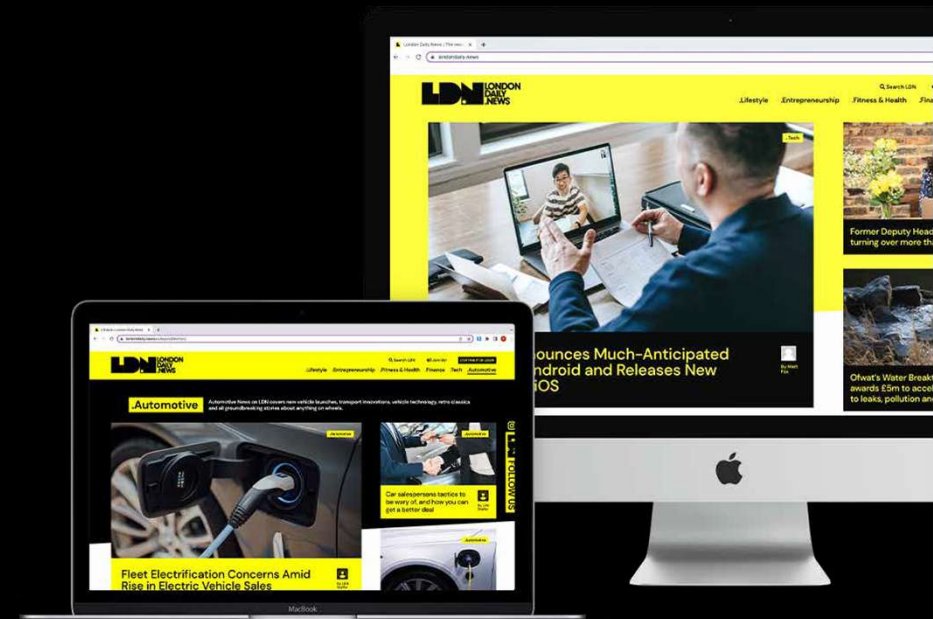

In LDN we have created a monitored, self-publishing platform that will allow content creators from all backgrounds to publish articles directly and quickly. Meaning they can be agile and responsive to breaking news which will reach a pre-built audience quickly. By default, this in turn, creates a news platform full of expertly researched and unbiased content that is constantly refreshed and relevant.
